GALT AND GREIG IN STEWART FINALS

By "T."

Jack Galt and James Greig will fight it out for final honors in the Stewart Cup tournament at the Country Club. By defeating Dr. G. Tucker Smith, to whom he conceded a handicap of two strokes, Greig entered the last round of play with a string of clean-cut victories to his credit. He won from Dr. Smith 4 up and 2 to play, while Galt's semi-final match against E. L. Spalding was also an easy one. The finals will probably be played off next Saturday afternoon.

The final struggle will be an interesting comparison of golfing styles. The players meet on even terms, both being 12 handicap men, and it will be a case of Young America against Young Scotland.

Galt learned his golf right here in Honolulu, and he is a comparatively recent recruit to the lure of the links. He has come on fast and has practiced consistently to master the points of the game. Greig, on the other hand, is an Old Country player, who swung a club for many years before coming to Hawaii about a year ago. He learned his golf at Tayport, across the water from Dundee, and the long northern twilight usually found him doing a round of the course after business hours. However, he is a "once-a-week" man now, and hasn't played nearly as much as his prospective opponent of late.

Galt is big and heavily muscled, and hits a mighty swipe off the tee. Greig is short and slight, tipping the scales at hardly 125. He has the full free swing of early training, however, and is by no means short of distance off the tee and through the greens. His principal weakness on the local course is in the short approach and in laying his approach putts within certain hailing distance on the keen and tricky greens.

Picking the winner is a hard task. Galt has been "shooting" close to bogey figures, and will probably have his opponent playing the odd off the tee, but Greig, on the other hand, has the experience to fall back on, and that counts for a big percentage in tournament play.

One pleasant feature of the match is that a win for either will be popular.

EPIPHANY BAZAAR ON SATURDAY

The bazaar to be held at the residence of A. Frank Cooke, Kaimuki, Saturday afternoon, for the benefit of Epiphany Guild, promises well for those who attend as well as for the church. Upwards of fifty ladies will have the management of the various booths and the good things to be offered will include delicious refreshments fresh from the homes of Kaimuki ladies, as well as articles for use and decoration.

An unwritten law governing, prices will be enforced on Saturday. There will be nothing that can be construed as prohibitive; nothing which savors of the "grab" so common and so objectionable in the average church bazaar. The ladies are asking for left-over paper flowers from the last Florad Parade. These will be used to decorate the booths and will be returned if requested. A telephone message to 1154 will bring a messenger who will deliver the flowers to the committee.

MASONS OUST JOHNSON.

LONDON, Eng., Apr. 29.—Jack Johnson is no longer a Mason in good and regular standing. The Forfeiture and Kincardine lodge, in which the negro champion was initiated, was suspended today by the grand lodge of Great Britain. The news that the black pugilist had been admitted to the order some months ago created a sensation throughout the Masonic world, and it was certain that the lodge would be disciplined.

SPLITTERS GET 4 GAMES IN 6

STUDENTS' BOWLING LEAGUE.

The Splitters found the job of rolling six match games in a row a little too strenuous for them yesterday afternoon. They started off with a rush, taking three games straight from the Wide-Awakes, and when they tackled the Rollers they continued their winning streak for the first string, and then dropped two, the last being a dismal fall-down.

HEALANI CLUB FOR EXPANSION

Rowing Men Reach Out for Desirable Members—Publicity Campaign.

The Healani club plans a campaign of expansion. With a view to securing more members, which will make possible a more extended field of operations, the following circular letter has been sent to those already on the rolls:

"Sir: The Healani Yacht and Boat Club has decided to institute a vigorous campaign that will result in materially increasing its membership; in fact, it is their aim to build up a membership that will be far above that of any other athletic organization in the islands. To do this we are depending on the combined efforts of its present membership, and it is needless to say that we are sure of your hearty cooperation.

"Plans are being made and material has been ordered for the construction of a large number of new lockers, and by the time these are finished, which will be within a few weeks, we shall have ample accommodations for all the new members we can get.

"We are enclosing four privilege cards and two membership application blanks which we trust you will make use of. Fill in the privilege cards, put them in the hands of your friends and direct them down to the clubhouse, or, better still, bring them down yourself. The boys at the clubhouse will make things interesting and show our guests what we have to offer a man or boy who wishes to associate with good clean fellows and get good, clean enjoyment in rowing, swimming, wrestling, etc. All that we ask of you is to send your friends down to the club. We will do the rest. If, at the expiration of three weeks, any of your friends should care to join, we will gladly welcome them as members.

"We took to you to do your best to aid us in this movement, and if every member gets results, it is plain to see the big boost the club will receive. Very truly yours,

HOOKS HEARD OF FITZMAURICE

James Fitzmaurice, who traveled in Hawaii as a special correspondent of the London Times, is no such thing at all, according to news from Australia.

Even before Fitzmaurice left Honolulu there arose a doubt as to whether he was all he represented himself to be, and now it is denied that he has anything to do with the great British paper except to use its name to help him along.

W. H. Hoogs, who recently returned from Australia, said he heard of Fitzmaurice down there, and that in Australia they say Fitzmaurice is probably a faker.

"Personally, I should not wish to say he is crooked without knowing it, and I don't know it," says Mr. Hoogs, "but when they heard in Australia that he was here, it was said that he was

NEW YORK, N. Y., Apr. 24.—Although Duke Kahanamoku, the Hawaiian swimming marvel, is practically certain of representing America at Stockholm this summer, he may be called on to take part in the additional swimming trials which the American Olympic committee has scheduled for early June in open water off New York.

Several additional trials will be held, according to this latest announcement of the committee.

General trials for the selection of the American rifle team will take place at the United States Marine Corps rifle range at Wjnthrop, Md., May 16, 17 and 18. The 25 high men will be given a final trial May 20.

Wrestling trials, Greco-Roman style, will be held in Chicago May 25. Trials for the 1000-meter walk will be held at the New York Athletic Club games at Travers Island, N. Y., June 1.

The committee has decided against entering a team of women swimmers. Colonel Robert H. Thompson, chairman of the committee, said today he would take up with government officials the matter of sending a rifle and riding team and see if they would not appropriate money to help defray the expenses.

ANY PAPER FLOWERS THAT YOU DON'T WANT?

The ladies of the Epiphany Guild at Kaimuki are in need of flowers for decorative purposes in the booths of the fair they are to hold on Saturday. Artificial flowers, such as were used to decorate the autos on Floral Parade Day, will be most acceptable, and in fact preferable to the real thing, as they will not wilt.

The ladies having the fair in charge are arranging quite a unique decoration scheme that is sure to be the admiration of those who attend.

Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, has issued a circular letter commending the officials of the river and flood service for their work in connection with the Mississippi and Ohio floods.

W. H. Hoogs, who recently returned from Australia, said he heard of Fitzmaurice down there, and that in Australia they say Fitzmaurice is probably a faker.

"Personally, I should not wish to say he is crooked without knowing it, and I don't know it," says Mr. Hoogs, "but when they heard in Australia that he was here, it was said that he was
